NVQs

National Vocational Qualifications (NVQs) are employer training qualifications designed to recognise your staff's competence in the workplace.

NVQ training courses have a clear focus on providing the vocational knowledge and skills your staff need to apply to their particular job role in your business sector, be it construction, business, hairdressing, social care, IT, or catering.

NVQ training is assessed in the workplace through observation of job performance, evaluation of evidence and questioning by the NVQ training assessor. Bedford College's NVQ assessors work flexible hours to provide training at times to suit your working patterns or shifts.

We offer the below NVQs as workplace qualifications; find out more about the funding available.
